

Yoshiaki Fujimori

Senior Executive Advisor of CVC Japan. Mr. Fujimori joined CVC in 2017. He currently serves as Chairman of Oracle Japan. He is a member of the Board of Toshiba Corporation, Takeda Pharmaceuticals, Boston Scientific and Shiseido Company, Limited.

Previously he spent 5 years as CEO at LIXIL Group Corporation. During this time, he led an ambitious strategy to drive growth through the transformation of a stable Japanese concern into a global leader in innovative living and housing solutions. Following the acquisition of major global players such as Permasteelisa, American Standard Brands and GROHE Group, the LIXIL Group is today the global leader in its industry segment with ¥1.89 trillion in revenue in March 2016.

Prior to that, he was Chairman, President and CEO of GE Japan. During his 25 years at GE, he held various key posts including Senior Vice President and a member of the Corporate Executive Council, as well as CEO of a number of Asian and global business divisions including Medical Systems, Plastics, and Capital. Mr. Fujimori started his career at Japanese trading company, Nissho Iwai Corporation (now Sojitz), where he worked for 10 years.

Mr. Fujimori holds a bachelor's degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Tokyo and an MBA from Carnegie Mellon Graduate School of Business, where he serves as a member of the Board of Trustees.